MESSAGE FROM THE CENTRAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

*Dear People of good will.
As members of the Ordination
Central Organizing Committee,
we welcome you all to this historic day of grace for our Archdiocese, and for the entire Body of Christ, the Church.*

Today, heaven touches earth again. The young men we watched grow; the Seminarians we prayed for are now being called to stand in Persona Christi. Indeed God has been kind to us, and with the Blessed Virgin Mary, we can firmly say; "the Almighty has done great things for me, Holy is His Name," cf. Luke 1:49.

Thank you a million times to those who were specially and directly involved in the formation of our priestly candidates. Our Archbishop, parents, Parish communities, guardians, benefactors and all the formators for discerning, counseling, teaching, encouraging and shaping these candidates this far. To all of you gathered here at Nyamitanga today, thank you for the love, prayers and every other support for our Ordinands during their formation and for coming physically to witness this grace-filled event.

Those who generously supported us with money, food and other items, we do appreciate. Your kind contributions made this sacred event memorable. Sincere gratitude for the active participation by all respective service providers. Namely; our Diocesan Choir, security officers, scouts and nurses, decorators, caterers, public system and members of various Media houses. We are so grateful for your readiness to partner with us always.

Our dear new priests and deacons, you are ordained at a special moment of implementing the resolutions of the Synod on synodality. Welcome to the mission of the synodal Church and cooperate with all the faithful of different background, age and social status for the greater glory of God and salvation of humanity.

To you our fellow leaders and members of the following subcommittees; Liturgy, Finance, Catering, Security, Ushering and Protocol, Communications and Publicity, Health and Sanitation, Construction and Accommodation, thank you. Our meetings and tireless behind-the-scenes efforts, accompanied by dedication and collaborative spirit have finally brought our vision to fruition.

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD OF LAITY, ARCHDIOCESE OF MBARARA, ON THE OCCASION OF THE PRIESTLY ORDINATION

*Dear Most Rev. Archbishop, Reverend Fathers and Religious,
Newly Ordained Priests,
All the Faithful of the Archdiocese of Mbarara,*

Today, we join the entire Church in giving thanks to Almighty God for the precious gift of our newly ordained priests. We congratulate them on responding generously to Christ's call and assure them of our prayers as they begin a lifelong mission of serving God's people with humility, love, and fidelity. As Scripture reminds us, "The harvest is plentiful, but the labourers are few; therefore ask the Lord of the harvest to send out labourers into His harvest" (Luke 10:2). Today, God has graciously answered that prayer by raising new labourers for His vineyard. May our newly ordained priests always remain faithful shepherds after the heart of Christ.

On behalf of the Archdiocesan Laity Council, I extend our heartfelt gratitude to our Shepherd, Most Rev. Lambert Bainomugisha, together with all the clergy of Mbarara Archdiocese, for your faithful, visionary, and selfless stewardship. Your leadership continues to nurture a vibrant local Church rooted in faith, unity and service. We particularly appreciate His Grace for deepening the synodal journey by creating greater and more equitable space for the laity to participate meaningfully in the life and leadership of our Archdiocese.

strengthens our shared This spirit of walking together reflects the Gospel and mission of evangelization. In the words of 1 Corinthians 12:27,

"Now you are the body of Christ, and each one of you
is a part of it."

This reminds us that bishops, priests, religious and laity each have indispensable gifts and responsibilities. By walking together in communion, participation and mission, we build a stronger, more vibrant and more missionary Church.

As I assume the responsibility of serving as Head of Laity, I wish to pay special tribute to my predecessor, Mr. Gervase Ndyabo, and his entire team for the dedicated and exemplary service they rendered to our Archdiocese. They laid a strong leadership foundation upon which we shall confidently build. We thank them for their commitment, sacrifice and vision, and pray that Almighty God abundantly rewards them for their faithful stewardship.

On this joyous occasion, we also express our profound gratitude to all those who have journeyed with our newly ordained priests. We thank the formators at every stage of their formation—from their families and parishes, through the minor and major seminaries, to all institutions and individuals that have shaped them spiritually, intellectually, pastorally and humanly. We are especially grateful to their parents, guardians, relatives, benefactors and friends whose sacrifices, encouragement and prayers have enabled these young men to faithfully respond to God's call. Today, the Church celebrates not only the ordinands but also all those who have contributed to their formation. As the Archdiocesan Laity Council, we pledge our unwavering commitment to meaningful collective leadership.

Members of the new Laity Council with the Archbishop and priests

Working hand in hand with His Grace, the clergy, religious and all the faithful, we shall focus on strengthening the spiritual well-being of our people, enhancing the financial sustainability of our Archdiocese, and building an economically empowered and truly synodal Church. To realize this vision, we shall support the institutionalization of the Archdiocese of Mbarara Development Foundation (AMDEF), promote the Archdiocese of Mbarara Community SACCO (AMCOS) as a vehicle for economic empowerment, and encourage Parish Pastoral Councils to become increasingly creative, participatory and firmly grounded in the synodal way of discerning, planning and serving together.

Through these initiatives, we believe our Archdiocese will continue to flourish spiritually, socially and economically, while strengthening the participation of all God's people in the mission of the Church.

To our newly ordained priests, may the words of John 15:16 continually inspire you: "You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you so that you might go and bear fruit—fruit that will last." May your priestly ministry bear abundant and lasting fruit for the glory of God, the growth of His Church and the salvation of His people. As St. Paul reminds us in 1 Corinthians 15:58: "Therefore, my beloved brothers and sisters, be steadfast, immovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that in the Lord your labour is not in vain." May this assurance strengthen all who serve the Church—our Archbishop, clergy, religious, laity, and especially our newly ordained priests.

May the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of Priests and Mother of the Church, intercede for Most Rev. Lambert Bainomugisha, our clergy, our newly ordained priests, and the entire family of Mbarara Archdiocese. Congratulations to our newly ordained priests. May Almighty God continue to bless our Archbishop, our clergy, our religious, our laity, and the entire Mbarara Archdiocese as we journey together in faith, communion, participation and mission.

WEAVING A PRIESTLY VOCATION: THE HIDDEN MINISTRY OF CATECHISTS

The celebration of a priestly ordination is one of the most beautiful and uplifting moments in the life of the Church. Families and friends give thanks, the Bishop lays hands on the ordinands, priests welcome new brothers into the presbyterate, and the faithful give thanks that the Lord has once again called labourers into His vineyard.

As the Christian community celebrates the newly ordained, it rightly honours parents, formators, and benefactors whose sacrifices have made this day possible. Yet among those who have initially and quietly shaped every priestly vocation is one person whose contribution often goes unnoticed—the catechist!

Long before a vocation is recognised by the seminary, it is often the catechist who has already begun nurturing it. Before the future priest studied Philosophy and Theology, someone patiently taught him how to make the Sign of the Cross, recite the Our Father, the Hail Mary, the Creed, and the related prayers commonly known as Eshaara z'Ekitsinde. Before he could explain the mystery of the Holy Trinity, someone first introduced him to the Triune God. Before his consecrated hands could celebrate the Holy Eucharist, someone had already taught him to kneel before the Blessed Sacrament with reverence and wonder.

A priest is not made on the day of ordination. His vocation is patiently woven through years of prayer, witness, encouragement, and faithful accompaniment. Among those who weave this beautiful tapestry, the catechist occupies a place of singular importance.

When a young man seeks admission to the seminary, it is often the catechist who knows him best. Having watched him grow in faith, serve faithfully at the altar, and participate actively in the Christian community, the catechist is entrusted with recommending him for admission. His testimony speaks not only of academic ability but also of character, faith, and Christian witness.

Even after the seminarian enters the major seminary, the catechist's ministry quietly continues. During holidays, the seminarian returns to his home outstation Hiika, where the catechist confidently entrusts him with leading Sunday prayers and preaching. Patiently guiding him through Omugyenzo gw'okuramya ogwebemberwa omushomesa, the catechist offers encouragement, practical wisdom, and honest feedback that no classroom can fully provide.

During Pastoral Work placements, catechists become generous collaborators in formation. They organise home visitations, prepare Christian communities to receive seminarians, ensure that hospitality reflects Christian charity, and quietly take responsibility for the seminarian's welfare. They see to it that meals are available, accommodation is dignified, and every family welcomes the seminarian as one of their own. Through their hidden dedication, what might have been cumbersome and tedious weeks of pastoral experience, become unforgettable moments of learning, fraternity, and growth.

Ordination does not end this partnership. The seminarian whom the catechist once guided now returns as a priest, and together they continue serving the same mission. The priest celebrates the sacraments, while the catechist prepares the faithful to receive them fruitfully. Their ministries are distinct yet beautifully complementary, united in building up the Body of Christ.

Pope Francis recognised the enduring importance of this vocation when, through Antiquum Ministerium, he formally instituted the lay ministry of catechist, affirming catechists as authentic collaborators in the Church's mission of evangelisation. For the Church in Uganda, this recognition resonates deeply, for long before flourishing parishes and seminaries existed, catechists had already carried the Gospel from village to village, laying the foundations upon which countless priestly vocations would later flourish.

As we rejoice with our newly ordained priests, let us also remember those hidden hands that first nurtured their vocation. We thank parents, formators, benefactors, and, in a very special way, the catechists whose quiet fidelity helped prepare these men of God for the altar. Their names may never appear prominently in an ordination programme, but their work is written into every vocation they have helped to shape.

Indeed, behind every newly ordained priest stands a catechist. Together, each according to his own vocation, we continue Christ's mission of building His Church.

FR. MUKASA BALIKUDEMBE

PASTORES DABO VOBIS

"I will give you shepherds after my own Heart"

Today as a Church of Mbarara, the Lord has given us a special gift of 16 Deacons and 10 Priests as Shepherds after his own Heart, to go therefore and make disciples of all nations, cf., Mt 28:19.

Without Priests the Church would not be able to live that fundamental obedience which is at the very heart of her existence and her mission in history. Therefore, the harvest is plentiful but the laborers are few! N'ahabwekyo mushabe Mukama w'eigyesha ayohereze abakozi omu by'okugyesha bye, cf., Mt.9:38.

As an Archdiocese, we are very grateful to God that many young men from humble families are responding to the vocation to the Priesthood. Apparently, we have over 117 Major Seminarians thus;

FORMATION STAGE	NUMBER
Theologica	53
Philosophica	34
Pastoral Spiritual Year	08
Propeadeutic Candidates	22
TOTAL	117

With the rising numbers, vis-a-vis the living conditions, the Archdiocese does not find it easy to look after all the material requirements of these increasing numbers in terms of paying their tuition. Every academic semester, the diocese is required to pay over 100 million shillings as part / contribution towards their stay, training and formation.

FEES STRUCTURE (Per Semester)

Philosophica	1,500,000=
Theologica	850,000=

As the Christian faithful, Mother Church asks us to participate in the formation of the Clergy. It is upon this background that we appeal to you all to generously support this noble cause by supporting the formation of the Seminarians not only financially, but also spiritually and morally so as to help the Archbishop produce Priests who are profoundly engaged with the Heart of God, to be Shepherds willing to lay down their lives in pastoral service of the people of God.

Appreciation

In a special way we express our heartfelt gratitude to the people of good will, who are supporting individual Seminarians and those that contribute into the common pool to help us meet the Seminary requirements. In particular, we are very grateful to Fr. Bash Foundation which is supporting many Seminarians and some of them are ordained Priests and serving in this Archdiocese. Thank you very much and may God bless you all.
